APPLICATION JOHN H. LOUNSBURY AWARD

The John H. Lounsbury Award for Distinguished Service is the highest award given by the National Middle School Association. This award is not presented annually. It is given only when an individual has demonstrated a level of service, integrity, and leadership in middle level education that warrants this special recognition.

Selection procedures include a committee review of received nominations and materials. If a recommendation results from committee deliberations, it is submitted to the Board of Trustees. After careful consideration, the “ultimate” decision is made by the Board at the summer meeting.

A candidate for this award should...

- have made a global impact on middle level education,
- have a minimum of ten years of actively demonstrated, distinguished service and a reputation as a national and global leader,
- have demonstrated scholarship of the highest level in professional writing and research,
- have maintained dedicated service to middle level education beyond the local, state, or regional.

Record of Integrity

A candidate should be known as a person of high personal ethics, reflecting a model of exemplary behavior and reputation associated with the spirit of the award.
